

We do not need cell phone access during flight. With the concern over electronic devices interfering with flight, I see no reason to allow cell phone useage. I'm sure there are safety and security concerns beyond my knowledge. No one is that important that they need constant communication.